

NEXUS GLOBAL SOLUTIONS PORTFOLIO DBP

A Sub Fund of Libero International SICAV plc

FACTSHEET - May 2022

INVESTMENT PROCESS

The fund manager's approach to investment combines strong valuation disciplines within a long-term strategic framework, together with a willingness to adjust asset allocation and stock selection in response to short term market opportunities. The Fund is not constrained by one particular investment style such as growth or value, but instead the manager believes that the best returns are achieved by correctly positioning the portfolio to benefit at all stages of each economic cycle. The manager has the mandate to search out value in all asset classes and so is well placed to judge the relative merits of a wide range of investment opportunities.

MARKET COMMENTARY

After some respite in the second half of March, markets resumed their downward trend for the year in April. Nexus Solutions was not immune to this, falling -3.68% over the month.

The war in Ukraine, lockdowns in China and the prospect of substantially tighter US monetary policy all weighed on sentiment. Global equities resumed their recent decline, with MSCI All Country World falling by -8.0% over the month. Growth stocks saw substantial losses of -11.9%, while value stocks continued their recent outperformance, down by only 4.9% in comparison. With US headline inflation standing at 8.5% – the highest level since 1981 – several members of the Fed's Board of Governors used speeches in April to highlight their desire to take rates back to neutral as quickly as possible.

Fixed income continued to come under pressure, with global bonds delivering a -5.5% return in April as US 10-year Treasury yields approached 3%. Expectations for the path of monetary policy have seen a major shift this year, with markets now pricing in interest rates of well over 2% in both the US and the UK by year-end, while eurozone rates are expected to move into positive territory as early as October.

During the month it was the portfolio's semiconductor stocks that came under the most pressure over fears for the short-term outlook for the industry. Amazon also disappointed after posting its first quarterly loss since 2015. More positively a number of the pharmaceutical positions added value, proving to be relatively defensive in nature during these turbulent markets. Merck, Sanofi, Novo Nordisk, AstraZeneca and Novartis all added value over the month. Coca Cola was amongst the best performers after releasing better than expected results towards the end of the month; that coming despite the suspension of its business in Russia due to the war. As noted above it was a tough period for fixed interest but it was pleasing to see the hedge funds add value.

Inflation is elevated, but is likely to moderate in the second half of 2022, whilst US monetary tightening is front-end loaded but now mostly priced in. We continue to think the macroeconomic backdrop and current earnings trajectory will support stocks, albeit volatility seems likely to remain high. The continued emphasis on quality, liquidity and diversification across asset class and geography remains firmly in place and Nexus Solutions remains well positioned for long term growth.

INVESTMENT THEMES

Standard Chartered

Standard Chartered has a history of over 150 years in banking and operates in many of the world's fastest growing markets with an extensive global network, but with its focus region stretching eastwards from North Africa and across Asia. Serving both consumer and wholesale customers the Group combines local knowledge with global capability to offer a wide range of products. We made an investment in April, reflecting our positive view on the UK Asian banks. This is because of their better loan growth and gearing to more dependable US rate rises relative to domestic UK peers.
