

NEXUS GLOBAL DYNAMIC PORTFOLIO B (EURO)

A Sub Fund of Libero International SICAV plc

FACTSHEET - November 2021

INVESTMENT PROCESS

The fund manager's approach to investment combines strong valuation disciplines within a long-term strategic framework, together with a willingness to adjust asset allocation and stock selection in response to short term market opportunities. The Fund is not constrained by one particular investment style such as growth or value, but instead the manager believes that the best returns are achieved by correctly positioning the portfolio to benefit at all stages of each economic cycle. The manager has the mandate to search out value globally and is not constrained by benchmarks and so is well-placed to judge the relative merits of a wide range of investment opportunities. Irrespective of geographic locations, close attention is paid to individual companies in addition to understanding economic conditions. High conviction ideas are supported by a combination of quantitative analysis, in-house research and company visits.

MARKET COMMENTARY

October was a good month for financial markets to the benefit of investors in the Nexus Global Dynamic portfolio which delivered a return of +2.78%. Year to date the return is well into positive territory, building on the gains made in both 2019 and 2020.

After a period of uncertainty during September the quarterly company results season settled nerves. Well managed companies based in many parts of the world are taking full advantage of the current background economic growth, low interest rates and mild inflation to increase profits and pay higher dividends. Investment in equities has paid off so far this year with a wide range of companies based in many parts of the world making a positive contribution. Last month the best performers amongst many were Tesla, Nvidia and Union Pacific from the US and Swedish engineer Epiroc.

The months ahead are bound to contain their fair share of uncertainties, but the underlying themes that have driven markets higher in recent years and rewarded investors able to take a longer term view remain firmly in place. As it has been all year the Nexus Global Dynamic portfolio continues to be positioned for growth, built on the foundations of quality, liquidity and diversification.

INVESTMENT THEMES

Palo Alto

Palo Alto is now the biggest company in cyber security, having just overtaken Cisco's cyber business, with $1.8bn of sales and 51,000 large enterprise customers. Palo Alto mainly has large corporates as clients. It has a platform strategy which we like and as it allows new products to be bolted on easily. We view this as a Cyber security $19bn addressable market (growing 8-10%).

References to specific securities are not recommendations to buy or sell those securities.

OBJECTIVE

The Nexus Global Dynamic Portfolio is an actively managed, globally diversified equity portfolio. The aim is for capital growth over the medium term. An understanding of macro economic conditions together with detailed research into individual securities is used to construct a diversified, highly liquid portfolio.
